Help us — help you

We are asking our customers how we can help them be more profitable. What services could we offer that would enhance the services we presently are providing or what services should we be providing.

This could mean training, communication, availability, information accessibility, response time, etc.

Anything you can think of that would make our service more valuable to you.

We are re-doing our website, what should we have there? What links? What information? What tools? We have just published our warehouse catalog. Is there additional information you would like to see there?

We want you to tell us how we can help.

We will consider every suggestion we get. Some may happen quickly, some may take some time and some may be beyond our ability to accomplish. We are interested in becoming a better organization with your help.

E-mail us, call us, communicate with us.

Thank you,
Bob, Bill, Mike, Bruce
